Our site is connected in a variety of ways to content hosted by third parties, including cloud hosting providers (for hosting our website), cloud email providers (for sending you updates via our mailing list), financial services and payment processors (for making online donations), links to social media sites, links to other sites, and embedded media on the site. When you access this content, third party hosts may place web trackers on your computer, access existing web trackers that were set when you previously visited other websites, or otherwise gather information about you as you access their content. When you link to a third-party website, you should refer to that site's privacy policies and guidance. You may use "Do Not Track" browser mechanisms, but please note that many third parties do not respond to Do Not Track settings.

The Homeless Action Center is not responsible for any privacy practices performed by other websites linked or embedded on our website.
